

4 Courses

Consonants of American English Pronunciation

Vowels of American English Pronunciation

The Music of American English Pronunciation

The Pronunciation of American English Project

UCI Division of Continuing Education

Feb 22, 2022

Caryl Rasco Bulay

has successfully completed the online, non-credit Specialization

The Pronunciation of American English

In this specialization, learners improved their ability to communicate clearly in English by becoming aware of and practicing many elements of American English pronunciation. These included accurate production of consonant and vowel sounds and the ability to distinguish between pairs of sounds that are often confused, along with the “musical” aspects of pronunciation (suprasegmental features). Understanding and using these features improves a speaker’s ability to be understood and to understand others in authentic oral communication. Learners also mastered strategies for continuing to improve the intelligibility and fluency of their pronunciation throughout their lives. They completed a capstone project at the end of the specialization in which they put to use all that they had learned.

Marla Yoshida
Instructor, International Programs
University of California,
Division of Continuing Education

The online specialization named in this certificate may draw on material from courses taught on-campus, but the included courses are not equivalent to on-campus courses. Participation in this online specialization does not constitute enrollment at this university. This certificate does not confer a University grade, course credit or degree, and it does not verify the identity of the learner.

Verify this certificate at:

coursera.org/verify/specialization/4AXLSWL2L2GP