To whom it may concern

I have known Mrs Irini Karpadaki since September 2015 when she followed our graduate program in the Department of Primary Education, University of Crete.

Mrs Karpadaki is very intelligent and enthusiastic student. She has a strong theoretical background and she is very original in the analyses that she proposes. She is hard-working and she can keep the deadlines.

As a person, is friendly, accessible and she can collaborate easily with fellow teachers and students.

I am quite confident that she will be able to follow a postgraduate program, if she is given the opportunity to continue her studies.

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Michelakaki Theodosia
