

To whom it may concern

In 2019, Nosipho Maphanga was offered a contract to be a Language Consultant with MPC5 which is now under MPC1. Her stay with us was cut short to a year because of retrenchments in December 2019. Nonetheless, during that period, Nosipho excelled at her job. She received glowing reviews from team leaders (myself included) on how she conducted her classes and students too rated her well. She taught both adults and children in single and group classes. Her time management, engagement with the student and use of materials was very good. She really was an exceptional consultant and therefore an asset to the company. We certainly hope you will give her great consideration for the post she is applying for because we are more that confident in her skills and competence. Furthermore, her time with us equipped her with valuable and useful experience that will surely aid her in her future teaching endeavors.

I trust that the above is sufficient and according to your satisfaction. However, should you require more information, please email elainennieman1@gmail.com or contact 079 158 9633. Should you wish to further confirm employment, call MPC1 on 012 and request an ID check with the name Nosipho Maphanga and ID number: 9908210334087 and they will definitely confirm that she was employed with the company. I have asked Nosipho to attach her tutor contract but she said she is currently only in possession of her non-disclosure tutor contract and retrenchment letter.

I hope this will all suffice in the end.

Sincerely,

Elaine Nieman
